HIT CROSSING STREET

Wilson, Clark Cars Figure In Accident During Rain

Miss Elizabeth Renick, 77, of 121 E. Union street, is in Berger hospital, suffering a fractured left leg near the hip, broken right collarbone and severe bruises as the result of being struck by two autos Tuesday night.

The accident occurred about 7:45 o'clock when Miss Renick was crossing Court street on the north side of Union street.

Police said the first car to strike Miss Renick was driven by Wayne Wilson, Circleville Route 1, going north on the highway. The second car involved was following the Wilson car and was driven by Edgar Clark, S. Washington street. The accident occurred during a rain.

Wilson told police that he did not see Miss Renick until she was in front of the car. He was unable to stop. Officers said he swerved his car, striking Miss Renick with the left front fender.

Struck Glancing Blow

Clark swerved his car to avoid running over Miss Renick. Officers were told the left front hub of his car struck her a glancing blow.

In his effort to avoid running over Miss Renick, Clark crashed into the rear of the Wilson car. Wilson took Miss Renick to her home. Dr. E. S. Shane was called. He ordered her removed to Berger hospital. She was taken to the hospital in the Mader ambulance. Her condition was reported fair at the hospital.

Both Drivers Report

Both drivers went to police headquarters to report the accident. Neither was held. The accident was investigated by Patrolmen Alva Shasteen and Charles Mumav.

A front fender, the radiator and cowl on the Clark car was damaged. A rear fender, the trunk and tail light on the Wilson car was damaged.

DENVER JUDGE RULES THUMBING OF NOSE AT OFFICER NOT ILLEGAL

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 14—(UP)—Judge Philip B. Gilliam had before him in police court an officer and a motorist. The policeman accused the motorist, Leslie Golden, of thumbing his nose at him.

"I was just blowing my nose," Golden said. "Sometimes my fingers wiggle a little, but it's just a habit."

Judge Gilliam looked at the officer.

"In the first place it's not possible to insult a policeman," he said. "And if it was possible, there's no law against it."

Golden was whistling when he left the courtroom.

Twenty of the twenty-two members of the Bar association attended the meeting held at the Country Club.

BEE BLAMED FOR CAUSING WRECK, HURTING WOMAN

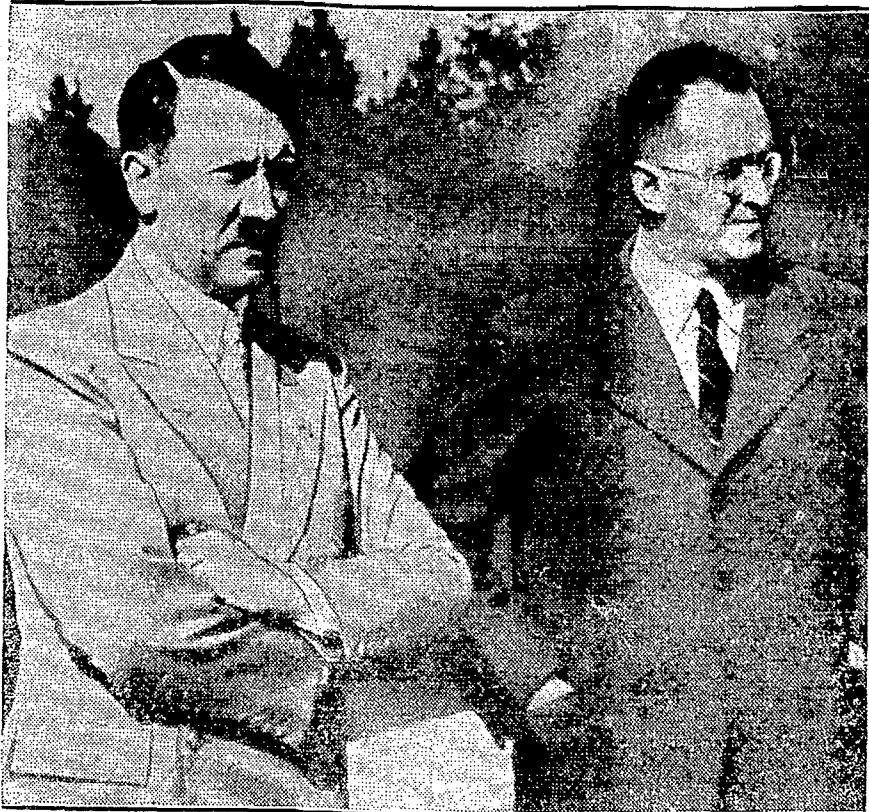

A bumble bee was blamed for an auto accident on Route 23, five miles south of Circleville about 9 a. m. Wednesday in which a Columbus woman suffered cuts on the head.

The woman injured was Mrs. Mary Gerlaugh, 49, of 1832 Barrington road, associated with the extension department of Ohio State university. A bee in the car caused her to lose control. The car overturned.

She was driving south in an auto owned by Mrs. Howard Gerlaugh of the Production Credit Corporation, Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Gerlaugh suffered two deep cuts, one on the scalp, the other on the forehead. Neither was believed serious. She will remain in Berger hospital until Thursday.

A passing motorist brought her to the hospital, where she was treated by Dr. E. S. Shane. A. B. Cook, state patrolman, investigated the mishap.

Ready to Liberate Czechoslovakia's Germans?

ADOLF HITLER AND KONRAD HENLEIN . . . THEY HOLD KEY TO PEACE OR WAR

FUEHRER Adolf Hitler's Nuremberg speech, promising Sudeten German protection and producing "self-determination" for the Germanic minority as the implied alternative to forcible action against Czechoslovakia, adds to the war scare already serious and projects Hitler and his Nazi leader in Czechoslovakia, Konrad Henlein, in the center of the world news spotlight. This photo of Hitler, left, and Henlein was taken during a recent series of conferences at Hitler's retreat.

MARKET CLIMBS AFTER SKIDDING IN WAR SCARE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(UP)—The stock market, which dropped sharply on yesterday's war scare, bounded upward today as the Czech crisis eased temporarily.

Heavy buying, on orders accumulated before the opening, sent prices up as much as two points. Some of the demand came from Europe.

One market expert described the situation as follows: "Yesterday's decline was not wide enough in event of a war. It was too wide if there was no war. The market from here will follow the European developments closely. This may be only a temporary, technical rebound."

So-called "war" stocks were prominent at the opening—coppers, steels, aviation. However, experts ascribed the demand for them more to the domestic business picture than to accumulation in event of a conflict.

United States Steel opened 1,500 share at $56.37½ up $1.87½. Kennecott featured the coppers with a gain of $2.37½ to $39.87½. U. S. Rubber, strong spot in the tire shares, opened 2,000 shares at $43.75 up $2.12½. Radio Corporation opened 5,000 shares at $6.50 to feature in activity.

PICKUS CABLES HITLER TO QUIT "HIS BLUFFING"

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14—(UP)—Abraham Pickus, the one-man peace advocate who telephones government heads all over the world to tell them how to settle their troubles amicably, cabled Fuehrer Adolf Hitler today to "stop bluffing" and "get serious."

"Of all beasts, man seems to be most forgetful," Pickus, president of an oil company, cabled Hitler. "Other animals remember not to return to things which have caused them pain and sorrow."

Germany, he said, "was licked in 1918 with more resources than you have now."

Pickus, who once telephoned Hitler, heard him say, "Hello" and was turned over to a subordinate, told the Fuehrer that "Germans are very poor diplomats" and said that "no one likes a person or a nation who think they are above all."

GEORGIA CASTS HEAVY BALLOT

One Precinct Shows George Ahead Of New Deal Man By 14 To One

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 14—(UP)—Ideal weather brought out a heavy vote today in Georgia's Democratic primary in which Lawrence S. Camp, endorsed by President Roosevelt, is seeking to defeat Sen. Walter F. George, conservative.

A third candidate was former Governor Eugene Talmadge, anti-New Dealer.

Voters in many cities stood in lines waiting for an opportunity to ballot. But at Irwinton there was a brief lull in voting and one ballot box was opened. The count showed:

George 14.
Talmadge 3.
Camp 1.
The box was then closed for further balloting.

TYDINGS' EDGE OVER NEW DEAL MAN IS 50,000

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14—(UP)—Sen. Millard E. Tydings, conservative Democrat whose defeat was sought by President Roosevelt, won a decisive victory in the Maryland primary on the basis of almost complete returns today.

Votes from 1,102 of the state's 1,289 precincts gave Tydings 152,366 and his New Deal opponent, Rep. David J. Lewis, 102,207. On the basis of these returns Tydings would have pledged to him 117 of the 149 votes in the nominating convention—a mere formality in certifying a primary winner. Seventy-five votes are needed for the nomination.

The Democratic gubernatorial nomination still remained in doubt. When the voting commissioner's office opened this morning the count stood: for Attorney General Herbert R. O'Connor, 127,168; Mayor Howard Jackson of Baltimore 108,294. These were on the basis of incomplete returns.

The Republican races were settled. For Senator Judge Oscar Leser of Baltimore apparently won nomination over Galen L. Tait, while Gov. Harry Nice was renominated easily.

McADOO'S DAUGHTER WEDS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Sept. 14—(UP)—The former Ellen Wilson McAdoo, daughter of Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo and granddaughter of the late President Wilson, and William Alfred Hinchshaw, young musician, were on their honeymoon today.

Embassies Concerned By Crisis

Official Washington Keeps In Close Touch; 100,000 Americans In Zone

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(UP)—Although officially unperturbed by the European crisis, state department officials today were concerned for the welfare of American nationals and property in Europe in event of the outbreak of war.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull's assistants kept him informed of latest developments in the Czechoslovakian-Sudeten dispute, but maintained their usual policy of silence on this country's reaction to them.

Attaches at the embassies of foreign nations were not so calm, however. More anxiety was displayed there than at any time since the days preceding the World War in 1914. Foreign embassies and their staffs sought all official and unofficial reports from the trouble areas.

Envoy Confident

Dr. K. Brejska, charge d'affaires of the Czechoslovakian legation, declared in a radio interview last night that his nation would not "voluntarily" sacrifice any part of its territory in a move to placate German demands.

Asked if his nation was strong enough to defend the Sudeten territory, Dr. Brejska replied:

"Yes . . . the army is equipped with modern arms and the firm determination of the people to defend their country compensates for what may be lacking in numerical strength."

The only comment from the state department was made by officials in behalf of Hull—that the United States was taking no unusual precautions or measures nor will it consider such steps unless

GARNER BACKED FOR PRESIDENCY BY TEXAS DEMS

BEAUMONT, Tex., Sept. 14—(UP)—Vice President John Nance Garner was endorsed by the executive committee of the Texas state Democratic convention today as a candidate for President in 1940.

The committee passed a resolution endorsing Garner after hearing a speech by Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio.

"In our judgment no citizen is better qualified by training experience and natural endowments to provide the character of leadership so vitally necessary in these trying times," Quinn said.

"With the approaching expiration of the traditional two-term period of service so capably and creditably discharged by Mr. Roosevelt, the Democrats of Texas again present to the nation John N. Garner as our President's logical successor."

POLICE SHOOT AT VILLAGERS, STRIKING MANY

Casualties Among Federal Gendarmes Not Immediately Determined; More Cities Put Under Martial Law

ARMORED CARS GO INTO CONFLICT

European Capitals Strive Desperately To Prevent General Outbreak Of War

BULLETIN

PRAGUE, Sept. 14—(UP)—The government today declared martial law in three additional Sudeten cities. With the new proclamation, 11 Sudeten cities are now under military rule.

EGER, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 14—(UP)—Two thousand Sudetens and hundreds of Czech soldiers and gendarmes engaged in battle today at the town of Habersparirk, near here.

By noon, 10 to 15 gendarmes had been killed. Casualties among the Sudetens were not immediately ascertained.

Latest Sudeten reports said the battle still was in progress late in the afternoon.

Czech soldiers advanced in heavy armored cars on two fronts against the beleaguered Sudetens when last reports were received.

There was heavy open fighting and also firing from ambush and the shelter of buildings.

Sudeten headquarters declared the fighting started when Communists provoked the Sudeten population at Habersparirk causing what at first was only a scuffle.

At first gendarmes patrolling the streets tried to intervene but the free-for-all fighting became hotter and a rioting crowd followed the gendarmes as they fought their way to the police station with prisoners.

A milling crowd surrounded the prison. Suddenly a shot came from the building. As the crowd broke, a heavy fusillade of rifle shots started.

People Begin to Fall

People in the crowd began to fall as the others raced madly for shelter.

The crowd re-formed, many brandishing weapons that appeared as if by magic, and made a mass assault on the station.

Gendarmes tried to flee through an adjoining building but all were shot down as they ran out.

The Sudetens took possession of the police station.

They seized arms from its stores, including 40 rifles, ammunition, several cases of hand grenades and two machine guns with ammunition.

As soon as word reached Falkenau and nearby Zwodau, truckloads of gendarmes raced to the scene of battle.

They opened fire into the crowd, which returned it. Several were killed in the first volley.

The Sudetens said one of the

DEATHS OF TWO OHIO HUNTERS HELD ACCIDENTS

BELLEFONTAINE, Sept. 14—(UP)—An accidental death verdict was given today by Coroner H. L. Mikesell in connection with the fatal shooting of Benjamin H. Nevers, 24, and his brother, Clarence 21, on a hunting expedition near here.

The coroner's verdict exonerated Theodore Hildebrand, 18, who shot the brothers with a .22 caliber rifle while hunting groundhogs. Hildebrand told authorities he thought he saw two groundhogs in a thicket and fired. He shot the brothers who had been lying on the ground watching a groundhog hole.

Hundreds Flee Czech Border Cities; Negotiator Expects New Concessions

By ELEANOR PACKARD
EGER, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 14—(UP)—Ernst Kundt, chief negotiator for the Sudeten Germans with the Czechoslovakian government, said today: "The next few hours will decide whether it is to be peace or war."

Soon after the leader of the Sudeten Germans who long for incorporation with the Nazi Reich made that statement to the United Press correspondent, he left for Prague by automobile where, he said, he would hold himself "in readiness to do anything I can in behalf of the Sudeten-German party."

He was accompanied by Gustav Peters, another leader of the Sudeten Germans.

Kundt talked to the United Press correspondent while hundreds of German Jews, German Socialists, and Czechs jammed the railroad station, frantically seeking trains out of this border city, one of the chief cities of the Sudeten German area of Czechoslovakia. The Sudeten Germans consider them all enemies.

Kundt said: "No proposals yet submitted by the Czech government have been anything but subterfuges. They avoided the real problem while at the same time they were so framed as to give a false impression to people outside the country, that Czechoslovakia is really trying to do something."

"I have always told my French friends, including Bonnet (Georges Bonnet, French foreign minister), that Benes (Edouard Benes, president of Czechoslovakia) would not make a constructive effort to settle the problem unless they say to him, 'unless you try to settle the minorities problem fairly and justly, we will not allow French blood to be shed in your behalf.'"

"It seems to us that the only solution now is for France and England to immediately draw up a reasonable plan for the minorities of Czechoslovakia and with the collaboration of Hitler, compel Benes to accept it."

Kundt received the correspondent in the sunny coffee room of the Hotel Welzel.

Both he and Peters are deputies to the Czechoslovakian parliament, representing the Sudeten region.

POLICE SHOOT AT VILLAGERS, STRIKING MANY

Gendarmes wounded in the attack on the police station declared that the first shot was not aimed at the crowd but was fired by a gendarme named Bartosch at his sergeant.

According to the gendarme, Bartosch was angered because the sergeant, who was a Slovak, refused to give the order to open fire when the disturbance started.

Powers Bending All Efforts To Prevent Outbreak

By WEBB MILLER

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(UP)—The powers of Europe worked desperately today to avert an explosion as the balance swung precariously between peace and war.

There still was hope for peace after yesterday's startling events in Czechoslovakia broke without setting off the spark but the nations did not relax their extraordinary preparations to meet war if it must come. Twenty-one persons—both Czechs and Sudetens—have been killed in disorders in Czechoslovakia.

Great Britain the key nation, was ready for any eventuality. The King decided to return from Scotland at once to be on hand and exercise the royal prerogatives if necessary.

British Cabinet Meets

The cabinet held a grave 2½ hour session. It discussed detailed plans for immediate mobilization of the entire armed forces if necessary, and also the advisability of summoning parliament in emergency session.

If parliament is called, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain would make an important pronouncement to the kingdom and the leaders of the other parties would voice their solidarity in time of crisis. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy visited Chamberlain and presumably was told the latest developments.

There was no general public excitement, only anxiety. The stock exchange reflected the tension, being nervous and fluctuating, with the trend predominantly downward.

The news from Czechoslovakia seemed a little more reassuring and except for one outbreak at the border town of Schwaderbach which was promptly and vigorously squelched, the government for the moment had things in hand.

The news that 21 had been killed and many wounded in the outbreaks was official. The Sudetens, however, said their dead numbered 18 instead of the nine announced by the government, which would make the total 30 by their figures.

Although Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German chief, had broken off negotiations with the Prague government, two of his negotiators left Eger for Prague to present again the Sudeten demand for the end of martial law and local control of police powers, which the Sudeten ultimatum failed to bring about.

May Resume Negotiations

The government hoped that negotiations might be resumed, and Viscount Runciman's British mission of mediation worked to that end.

In Berlin, the government maintained an air of calm, but there was much belligerent comment in the press and among the people. The Belgian ambassador to Berlin reported to his government that Hitler, from his mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden, had called a conference of his chief military and political advisers.

France continued to hope that she and Britain could put enough pressure on Czechoslovakia to bring about concessions which would avert war. Like Britain, however, she continued every form of military and economic preparedness. The government drafted a bill giving it war-time financial powers as its latest step.

SCHOOL HALTED BY STRIKE OVER COACH OUSTER

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Fifty mothers were on the "picket line" at St. Bernard suburban public schools today in a strike of 600 students in protest of the demotion of two athletic coaches.

About 150 high school students walked out yesterday and by today, several times that number were persuaded to leave classes. At a mass meeting last night, board of education members were told that the demotion of the coaches was "only the spark that started the fire."

Mrs. Edward H. Lorenz, wife of a Presbyterian pastor, told the board trouble has been brewing for several years and involved suspension of the junior high school and substitution of a nine-month term for a 10-month term.

Louis B. Esselman, board clerk, said the meeting was "a shameful demonstration." He said if the strike still is in effect Monday, absent pupils will be taken to juvenile court as truants. He asked a state inspector to check the school's affairs.

The coaches, Albert Milner and Ralph Nieman, also were teachers. When school opened this year, they were not assigned to their old coaching positions. Donald Riddell is the new athletic instructor.

the gravity of the crisis increases. 100,000 in Danger Area

According to the best figures obtainable there are about 100,000 Americans in Europe who would be affected in event of a war. State department records listed 88,000 residing there permanently at the beginning of the year.

In addition, it is estimated unofficially, 90,000 tourists visited Europe this Summer. All but about 18,000 of them are believed to have returned.

Americans living in Czechoslovakia at the beginning of 1937 numbered 5,190; in Germany, 5,896; in France, 12,381 and in Great Britain, including Ireland, 12,447. Many of these, especially in Germany and Czechoslovakia, originally were nationals of those countries, but returned to their homelands after obtaining citizenship here.

INSTITUTE FOR HUNDREDS FLEE MERCHANTS MAY CZECH CITIES ATTRACT MANY TO SAFE HAVENS

Business men of Circleville have received announcements of an Institute on Credit to be held Oct. 7 and 8 at Ohio State university, in Columbus.

The institute, first of its kind at Columbus, is held by the university's College of Commerce and Administration, with the cooperation of Associations of Credit Men and Retail Credit Bureaus of Ohio and the middle west.

Scheduled for discussion by nationally known authorities are such subjects as economic trends affecting credit, the Bankruptcy Act and its administration, installment credit, the collection letter and its possibilities, major trends in retail credit, the credit profession—its place, responsibilities and opportunities, research in commercial credit, and "unplowed fields" of credit.

The two-day program will end with attendance at the Ohio State-Southern California football game the afternoon of Oct. 8.

Dr. Theodore N. Beckman, of Ohio State's department of business organization, in charge of registrations, expects an attendance of 500 or more, in view of widespread present interest in credit matters.

This is one of a series of institutes being held by the Ohio State college, previous sessions having been held this year for trade secretaries, and on the subjects of personnel management and accounting.

MARSHALL BUSH DIVORCE PETITIONS PUT IN COURT

Two new divorce actions were on file in Common Pleas court Wednesday.

Robert Leslie Marshall, Circleville, asks a divorce from Minnie Pier. Marshall, address unknown, for absence. They were married in Circleville on Feb. 13, 1934, and Mrs. Marshall left the plaintiff two days later.

Mrs. Stella Bush, Circleville, asks a divorce from Pearl Bush, charging neglect of duty. They were married in Circleville on July 5, 1908 and have nine children, five under 16 years of age.

The action says that in October, 1937, the defendant was sentenced to the Cincinnati workhouse for failure to support the children. He was released on March 17, 1938 and was rearrested for being drunk and disorderly and on March 22 was again sentenced to the workhouse. He is now confined in the institution, the action says. Mrs. Bush asks custody of the minor children and alimony.

DEWEY SEEKING NEW EVIDENCE AGAINST HINES

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(UP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey said today that he was assembling new evidence and would "shoot the works" when Tammany Leader James J. Hines is retired on lottery conspiracy charges, probably within two months.

Three handwriting experts will be among the new witnesses, he said, and they will prove who signed Hines' name to a $500 check which allegedly represented one of the regular payments to Hines from the Dutch Schultz mob. The check was one of the vital pieces of state evidence and when it was submitted in the first trial, Dewey admitted that the endorsement was not in Hines' writing. He did not say who had signed it, but will do so at the new trial.

Justice Ferdinand Pecora, who declared a mistrial Monday on the grounds that Dewey had committed a "fatally prejudicial error" by asking a witness whether Hines had not been questioned before a grand jury about the poultry racket, defended his verdict in a press conference. Replying to critical newspaper editorials, he said his "conscience was clear."

JAPAN CLAIMS CHINESE FORTS FALL TO TROOPS

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14.—(UP)—One of half a dozen Japanese columns moving toward Hankow was reported today to have captured the Matouchen forts commanding the Yangtze river bottleneck above Kiukang.

The spearhead of the column occupied the forts, from which a boom extends across the river toward Wusueh. The Japanese reported the fall of the forts had eliminated one of two major obstacles, the boom and the Chinese shore batteries.

The Japanese also reported another column was moving toward Nanchang from Poyang lake following its occupation of Hsikuiling height on Monday night. The column at present is bearing Aikow.

GOODMAN WINS INITIAL MATCH IN U. S. AMATEUR

OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, Oakmont, Pa., Sept. 14.—(UP)—Johnny Goodman, playing through a disheartening drizzle, opened a brilliant defense of his National Amateur golf title today with a 4 and 3 victory over Sid Richardson of Prairieview, Ill., in a first round match.

The yellow-haired champion, an insurance man from Omaha, matched par on Oakmont's tough first nine and sewed up the match on the 15th green.

Although built for non-inflammable helium gas, the dirigible used hydrogen because of the United States' embargo on helium. It was making a brief flight over this vicinity.

G. O. P. OF OHIO GATHERING FOR BIG CONVENTION

5,000 Delegates And Advisers
To Start State
Meeting

GLENN FRANK SPEAKS

Labor Planks Asked After
C. I. O., Green, Harrison
Back Sawyer

COLUMBUS, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Brimming with enthusiasm which they hope results of the November election will justify, the shock troops of the Republican party in Ohio descended on the state capital today for the biennial state convention and adoption of a party platform.

Republican state headquarters forecast that approximately 5,000 delegates and "advisory" delegates would jam the convention hall when the sessions open this afternoon. The convention will continue through tomorrow noon. The scheme of having "advisory" delegates was adopted for the primary purpose of drawing a big crowd.

Important developments today will be the "keynote" address of Dr. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin and chairman of the Republican national program committee, and the speeches of John W. Bricker and Robert A. Taft, the gubernatorial and senatorial candidates. The addresses will be broadcast tonight.

May "Play Down" F. D.

It was reported in political circles that efforts would be made to "play down" too violent criticism of President Roosevelt and the New Deal with critical emphasis on the administration's methods as against its objectives. The "reform," theme, however, will run through all discussions on matters of state government.

Reports also credited Bricker and his followers with an intention to insist on insertion in the platform of a "liberal" labor plank.

This was considered significant in view of the endorsement of Charles Sawyer, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, by the Committee for Industrial Organization, President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and George Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

The convention was to be called to order by State Chairman Ed D. Schorr who will turn the gavel over to James Garfield Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati. Mayor Stewart will introduce Dr. Frank. Later in the afternoon Mayor Harold H. Burton, of Cleveland, will be chosen permanent convention chairman if plans of party leaders are followed by the delegates.

The woman's "angle" will be provided by Mrs. Buckner who will make a short talk. Mrs. Taft also was invited to speak, but declined as a "hay fever" sufferer. She was out of the state. It was understood that Supreme Court Judge Arthur H. Day, Cleveland, Taft's opponent in the primaries, is on a motor tour in Canada and will not attend.

Losers Have Places

Edward C. Turner, Columbus, and State Sen. Verne E. Metcalf, Marietta, defeated for supreme court judgeship and attorney general nominations, respectively, will have prominent places, however. The resolutions committee will convene early in the evening to consider proposed planks for the platform and probably will work through the night.

PHILOS LODGE ARRANGES FOR ITS HOMECOMING

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU— BY BOB BURNS

You can look at any newspaper today and get almost any kind of a magazine. Somebody must like all those things or the publishers couldn't stay in business.

When I saw my Cousin Wafford readin' one of them wild magazines with pictures of drippin' daggers all over the front page, I said, "What do you want to read that trash for about people that never lived?" I says, "Why don't you read some good biographies of famous people? You would not only improve your mind that way but you'd be readin' about people that actually existed."

When I saw him two weeks later, he came runnin' up to me and said, "I took your advice about readin' biographies and I like 'em better than fiction." Then he said, "Wasn't that sad about Jessie James?"

F. D. R., Eyes on Europe Starts Return to East

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 14.—(UP)—President Roosevelt leaves today for the East where, either in the seclusion of the Summer White House at Hyde Park, N. Y., or at Washington, he will watch by telephone, telegraph and radio the swiftly-moving war drama in Europe.

He had planned to go to Hyde Park but advices received early today indicated that he was undecided, because of the tense situation, whether to proceed directly to Washington where he would be able to confer more readily with state department officials.

Benny Goodman will spotlight his soloists in future broadcasts on Columbia each Tuesday night. Heretofore he has brought forward the duo of Jess Stacey and Teddy Wilson, the trio and the quartet. The soloists, however, have been played down considerably because of the lack of time on the program.

The group players will have to give up some of their time now, Benny says, to let such senders as Harry James and Budd Freedman take a passage or two. James is considered one of the top trumpet players in the country. Freedman, the Shakespeare-quoting saxophonist, is a virtuoso among swingsters when it comes to playing the instrument invented by Mr. Sax.

"PARKY" STARTS DICTIONARY

Taking right up where Webster left off, that Greek dialect artist, Parkyakarkus, has compiled his own list of words that are seldom used but often mispronounced.

According to "Parky," these are words that the average person uses daily without knowing their true meaning. This first list of 11 will be followed at intervals with additional words.

With the apologies to anybody who wants it, here is Parkyakarkus' Private Dictionary—and it may help you to understand him.

1. Menace—A city in Italy where the sewers overflowed.
2. Mimic—A space of time. Like 60 seconds makes one mimic.

GEORGIA VOTES TO DETERMINE GEORGE'S FATE

Senator Opposed By New Deal Chief Favored
To Win Again

BY UNITED PRESS

Sen. Walter F. George, one of the four conservatives President Roosevelt is striving to retire from congress, faced the crucial test in the Georgia primary today and betting odds favored his re-nomination.

Two fellow conservatives on President Roosevelt's elimination list—Sen. Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina and Sen. Millard Tydings of Maryland—already have been re-nominated despite his opposition. The fourth—Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York City—faces his constituents in a primary Sept. 20.

Today's Georgia primary culminated the busiest primary week of this primary year. Yesterday nine states held primaries in which no national issues were involved. The results were:

COLORADO: — Sen. Alva B. Adams, an opponent of some New Deal measures but who was not opposed by Mr. Roosevelt or any member of his administration, won Democratic re-nomination. He had no opponent. Archibald Lee was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

NEW HAMPSHIRE: — Rep. Charles W. Tobey defeated Eliot W. Carter for Republican senatorial nomination. Republican Governor Francis P. Murphy won re-nomination over Attorney General Thomas P. Cheney with a margin of only 2,000 votes.

JOHN L. Sullivan, who almost won the governorship in 1934, was the Democratic gubernatorial nominee without opposition.

VERMONT: — Gov. George D. Aiken won Republican nomination over Elisha N. Goodsell. Sen. Ernest W. Gibson won Republican re-nomination over Martin S. Vilas.

SOUTH CAROLINA: — Mayor Burnet R. Maybank won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a run-off primary over Wyndham Manning.

MICHIGAN: — Gov. Frank Murphy won Democratic re-nomination without opposition. Former Gov. Frank Fitzgerald won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over Harry S. Toy, former attorney general and state supreme court justice, and Roscoe Conkling Fitch, who ran as an advocate of both the Townsend and the $30-a-week-Thursday pension schemes. All 17 incumbent Congressmen were re-nominated.

LOUISIANA: — Rep. J. H. Griffith, backed by machine of the late Huey P. Long, won re-nomination in the 6th district over James H. Morrison who was shot and slightly wounded from ambush Saturday.

UTAH: — Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, Democrat, unopposed for re-nomination. Dr. Franklin S. Harris, president of Brigham Young university, won the Republican senatorial nomination.

ARIZONA: — Republican candidates, all unopposed: Burt M. Clingheim, for senator; Jerrie W. Lee, for governor; M. E. Casidy for house.

WASHINGTON: — Rep. Charles H. Leavy, Democrat, renominated unopposed.

Sen. Homer T. Bone won re-nomination easily on the Democratic ticket. Leavy's colleagues in the house, Warren G. Magnuson, Conrad C. Wallgren, Martin F. Smith, Knute Hill and Charles M. Coffey, all Democrats, also were re-nominated.

PLACE SMALLER POT OVER BULBS

SET POTS IN ASHES

Potting hyacinths for indoor use

WHEN potting hyacinths for indoor blooms this Winter, select only heavy, well-ripened bulbs. Examine them carefully to make sure they are free from blemishes. Use a potting mixture consisting of fibrous loam, well decayed cow manure and sand.

After potting the bulbs place the pits in a cold frame or in the open, set in ashes as shown in the Garden-Graph. Cover the bulbs either with fiber or soil to protect them from frost and to keep them in the dark. To protect the new growth as it develops, place a smaller flower pot over each pot of bulbs, as illustrated.

Start to gather leaves as an organic matter. They may be dug directly into the uncoupled spots of the garden.

AT THE GRAND

"Alexander's Ragtime Band," the song which Irving Berlin wrote nearly thirty years ago and which has lived long enough in popular fancy to become a genuine American folk song, forms the theme of the Darryl F. Zanuck 20th Century-Fox production which bears the song's name.

The film opens Sunday at the Grand Theatre, with Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche in the starring roles.

While it revolutionized the entire popular concept of dancing and singing in 1911 . . . and is generally admitted to have begun the ragtime through the eras of blues and jazz to current "swing" . . . there are a number of interesting facts in connection with the song itself.

Originally written by Irving Berlin as "Alexander and His Clarinet" the song had no words. Revamped and lyricized for a Friars Frolic in New York in 1911.

First sung in public in 1911 by Emma Carus in Chicago.

In 27 years, to date, has been given 10,000-odd performances.

In the motion picture it will give more than 60,000 performances within a year.

At the peak of its career the song sold 2,000,000 copies of sheet music . . . its staggering total over 27 years cannot be learned.

Irving Berlin did not own the copyright to the song until 1925 when he bought it. The author and composer was paid $25 a week when he wrote "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

He since has written 600 songs which have aggregated more than 60,000,000 copies of sheet music.

CZECHS, SUDETENS BATTLE NEAR EGER

AGED RESIDENT, STRUCK BY TWO AUTOS, INJURED

Miss Elizabeth Renick, 77, in Berger Hospital With Numerous Hurts

HIT CROSSING STREET

Wilson, Clark Cars Figure in Accident During
Rain

Miss Elizabeth Renick, 77, of 121 E. Union street, is in Berger hospital, suffering a fractured left leg near the hip, broken right collarbone and severe bruises as the result of being struck by two autos Tuesday night.

The accident occurred about 7:45 o'clock when Miss Renick was crossing Court street on the north side of Union street.

Police said the first car to strike
Miss Renick was driven by Wayne Wilson, Circleville Route 1, going north on the highway. The second car involved was following the Wilson car and was driven by Edgar Clark, S. Washington street.
The accident occurred during a rain.

Wilson told police that he did not see Miss Renick until she was in front of the car. He was unable to stop. Officers said he swerved his car, striking Miss Renick with the left front fender.

Struck Glancing Blow

Clark swerved his car to avoid running over Miss Renick. Officers were told the left front hub of his car struck her a glancing blow.

In his effort to avoid running over Miss Renick, Clark crashed into the rear of the Wilson car.
Wilson took Miss Renick to her home. Dr. E. S. Shane was called.
He ordered her removed to Berger hospital. She was taken to the hospital in the Mader ambulance.
Her condition was reported fair at the hospital.

Both Drivers Report

Both drivers went to police headquarters to report the accident. Neither was held. The accident was investigated by Patrolmen Alva Shastene and Charles Mumaw.

A front fender, the radiator and cowl on the Clark car was damaged. A rear fender, the trunk and tail light on the Wilson car was damaged.

COUNTIAN USES .12 GAUGE GUN TO END HIS LIFE

Verdict of suicide was returned by Coroner C. E. Bowers, Wednesday, in the death of Luther W.
Churtz, 68, Pickaway township farmer.

Mr. Churtz fired a twelve-gauge shotgun into his left chest. He was found in a work shed by his wife when she returned after a trip to Circleville for ice.

Coroner Bowers said he was told Mr. Churtz has been in ill health for some time. The suicide was reported about 9 o'clock.

Surviving are his widow, Angie, and a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Weaver. Funeral arrangements in charge of C. E. Hill, Williamsport, have not been completed.

DENVER JUDGE RULES THUMBING OF NOSE AT OFFICER NOT ILLEGAL

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 14—(UP)—Judge Philip B. Gilliam had before him in police court an officer and a motorist. The policeman accused the motorist, Leslie Golden, of thumbing his nose at him.

"I was just blowing my nose," Golden said. "Sometimes my fingers wiggle a little, but it's just a habit."

Judge Gilliam looked at the officer.

"In the first place it's not possible to insult a policeman," he said. "And if it was possible, there's no law against it."

Golden was whistling when he left the courtroom.

Licking county agricultural agent,
Wednesday, was appointed as community manager for the Scioto

BEE BLAMED FOR CAUSING WRECK, HURTING WOMAN

A bumble bee was blamed for an auto accident on Route 23, five miles south of Circleville about 9
a. m. Wednesday in which a Columbus woman suffered cuts on the head.

The woman injured was Mrs.
Mary Gerlaugh, 49, of 1832 Barrington road, associated with the extension department of Ohio State university. A bee in the car caused her to lose control. The car overturned.

She was driving south in an auto owned by Mrs. Howard Ger-laugh of the Production Credit Corporation, Louisville, Ky. Mrs.
Gerlaugh suffered two deep cuts, one on the scalp, the other on the forehead. Neither was believed serious. She will remain in Berger hospital until Thursday.

A passing motorist brought her to the hospital, where she was treated by Dr. E. S. Shane. A. B.
Cook, state patrolman, investigated the mishap.

Ready to Liberate Czechoslovakia's Germans?

ADOLF HITLER AND KONRAD HENLEIN . . . THEY HOLD KEY TO PEACE OR WAR

FUEHRER Adolf Hitler's Nuremberg speech, promising Sudeten
German protection and producing "self-determination" for the German minority as the implied alternative to forcible action against Czechoslovakia, adds to the war scare already serious and projects Hitler and his Nazi leader in Czechoslovakia, Konrad
Hitler, left, and Henlein was taken during a recent series of conferences at Hitler's retreat.

gess Avenue U. B., and St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational, in one sixth of the estate of Hazel Brown, native Stoutsville and former Pickaway county resident.

Miss Brown was proprietor of the Cove restaurant, Columbus.
Her will was admitted to probate in Columbus, Tuesday.

The remainder of her estate, estimated at $11,600, will be shared by a niece, two sisters and two brothers.

BOOSTER EVENT STARTS AT 7:30 WEDNESDAY EVE

Officials in charge of the booster parade announce that if rain is falling at 6 p. m. Wednesday the parade will be postponed until 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

and school children will join forces Wednesday night to boost enthusiasm in Circleville high school football games.

The parade to be held in the downtown district at 7:30 p. m.
will include surprise novelty displays arranged by merchants and school children, cars and autos of merchants and plenty of marchers.
Music will be furnished by the high school band, Legion drum corps and Little German band.

The parade will form at the high school at 7 p. m. and cover the terested in forming a Pickaway including eight from Circleville and two from Ashville, attended a discussion meeting Tuesday evening at which time the possibility of an organization was talked.

It is hoped that more persons who have expressed interest in the undertaking will be able to attend
Monday's gathering.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(UP)
—The stock market, which dropped sharply on yesterday's war scare, bounded upward today as the Czech crisis eased temporarily.

Heavy buying, on orders accumulated before the opening, sent prices up as much as two points.
Some of the demand came from Europe.

One market expert described the situation as follows:

"Yesterday's decline was not wide enough in event of a war.
It was too wide if there was no war. The market from here will follow the European developments closely. This may be only a temporary, technical rebound."

So-called war stocks were prominent at the opening — coppers, steels, aviation. However, experts ascribed the demand for them more to the domestic business picture than to accumulation in event of a conflict.

United States Steel opened 1,500 share at $56.37½ up $1.87½.
Kennecott featured the coppers with a gain of $2.37½ to $39.87½.
U. S. Rubber, strong spot in the tire shares, opened 2,000 shares at $43.75 up $2.12½. Radio Corporation opened 5,000 shares at $6.50 to feature in activity.

PICKUS CABLES HITLER TO QUIT "HIS BLUFFING"

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14—(UP)
—Abe Pickus, the one-man peace advocate who telephones government heads all over the world to tell them how to settle their troubles amicably, cabled Fuehrer Adolph Hitler today to "stop bluffing" and "get serious."

"Of all beasts, man seems to be most forgetful," Pickus, president of an oil company, cabled Hitler. "Other animals remember not to return to things which have caused them pain and sorrow."

Germany, he said, "was licked in 1918 with more resources than you have now."

Pickus, who once telephoned Hitler, heard him say, "Hello" and was turned over to a subordinate, told the Fuehrer that "Germans are very poor diplomats" and said that "no one likes a person or a nation who think they are above all."

GEORGIA CASTS HEAVY BALLOT

One Precinct Shows George
Ahead Of New Deal Man
By 14 To One

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 14—(UP)
—Ideal weather brought out a heavy vote today in Georgia's Democratic primary in which Lawrence S. Camp, endorsed by President Roosevelt, is seeking to defeat Sen. Walter F. George, conservative.

A third candidate was former Governor Eugene Talmadge, anti-
New Dealer.

Voters in many cities stood in lines waiting for an opportunity to ballot. But at Irwinton there was a brief lull in voting and one ballot box was opened. The count showed:

George 14
Talmadge 3
Camp 1
The box was then closed for further balloting.

TYDINGS' EDGE OVER NEW DEAL MAN IS 50,000

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14—(UP)—Sen. Millard E. Tydings, conservative Democrat whose defeat was sought by President Roosevelt, won a decisive victory in the Maryland primary on the basis of almost complete returns today.

Votes from 1,102 of the state's 1,289 precincts gave Tydings 152,
366 and his New Deal opponent, Rep. David J. Lewis, 102,207. On the basis of these returns Tydings would have pledged to him 117 of the 149 votes in the nominating convention—a mere formality in certifying a primary winner. Seventy-five votes are needed for the nomination.

The Democratic gubernatorial nomination still remained in doubt.
When the voting commissioner's office opened this morning the count stood: for Attorney General
Herbert R. O'Connor, 127,168; Mayor Howard Jackson of Baltimore 108,294. These were on the basis of incomplete returns.

The Republican races were settled. For Senator Judge Oscar Leser of Baltimore apparently won nomination over Galen L. Tait, while Gov. Harry Nice was renominated easily.

McADOO'S DAUGHTER WEDS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Sept.
14—(UP)—The former Ellen Wilson, daughter of Sen.
William Gibbs McAdoo and granddaughter of the late President Wilson, and William Alfred Hinshaw, young musician, were on their honeymoon today.

Embassies Concerned By Crisis

Official Washington Keeps
In Close Touch; 100,000
Americans In Zone

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—
(UP)—Although officially unperturbed by the European crisis, state department officials today were concerned for the welfare of American nationals and property in Europe in event of the outbreak of war.

Secretary of State Cordell
Hull's assistants kept him informed of latest developments in the Czechoslovakian-Sudeten dispute, but maintained their usual policy of silence on this country's reaction to them.

Attaches at the embassies of foreign nations were not so calm, however. More anxiety was displayed there than at any time since the days preceding the World War in 1914. Foreign embassies and their staffs sought all official and unofficial reports from the trouble areas.

Envoy Confident

Dr. K. Brejska, charge d'affaires of the Czechoslovakian legation, declared in a radio interview last night that his nation would not "voluntarily" sacrifice any part of its territory in a move to placate German demands.

Asked if his nation was strong enough to defend the Sudeten territory, Dr. Brejska replied:
"Yes . . . the army is equipped with modern arms and the firm determination of the people to defend their country compensates for what may be lacking in numerical strength."

The only comment from the state department was made by officials in behalf of Hull—that the United States was taking no unusual precautions or measures nor will it consider such steps unless

GARNER BACKED FOR PRESIDENCY BY TEXAS DEMS

BEAUMONT, Tex., Sept. 14—
(UP)—Vice President John Nance
Garner was endorsed by the executive committee of the Texas state Democratic convention today as a candidate for President in 1940.

The committee passed a resolution endorsing Garner after hearing a speech by Mayor C. K. Quin of San Antonio.

"In our judgment no citizen is better qualified by training experience and natural endowments to provide the character of leadership so vitally necessary in these trying times," Quin said.

"With the approaching expiration of the traditional two-term period of service so capably and creditably discharged by Mr.
Roosevelt, the Democrats of Texas again present to the nation John N. Garner as our President's logical successor."

Hundreds Flee Czech Border Cities; Negotiator Expects New Concessions

By ELEANOR PACKARD
EGER, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 14
—(UP)—Ernest Kundt, chief negotiator for the Sudeten Germans with the Czechoslovakian government, said today: "The next few hours will decide whether it is to be peace or war."

Soon after the leader of the Sudeten Germans who long for incorporation with the Nazi Reich made that statement to the United Press correspondent, he left for Prague by automobile where, he said, he would hold himself "in readiness to do anything I can in behalf of the Sudeten-German party."

He was accompanied by Gustav Peters, another leader of the Sudeten Germans.

Kundt talked to the United Press correspondent while hun-

POLICE SHOOT AT VILLAGERS, STRIKING MANY

Casualties Among Federal Gendarmes
Not Immediately Determined; More
Cities Put Under Martial Law

ARMORED CARS GO INTO CONFLICT

European Capitals Strive Desperately To Prevent General Outbreak Of War

BULLETIN

PRAGUE, Sept. 14—(UP)—The government today declared martial law in three additional Sudeten cities.
With the new proclamation, 11 Sudeten cities are now under military rule.

EGER, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 14—(UP)—Two thousand Sudetens and hundreds of Czech soldiers and gendarmes engaged in battle today at the town of Habersparirk, near here.

By noon, 10 to 15 gendarmes had been killed.
Casualties among the Sudetens were not immediately ascertained.

Latest Sudeten reports said the battle still was in progress late in the afternoon.

Czech soldiers advanced in heavy armored cars on two fronts against the beleaguered Sudetens when last reports were received.

There was heavy open fighting and also firing from ambush and the shelter of buildings.

Sudeten headquarters declared the fighting started when Communists provoked the Sudeten population at Habersparirk causing what at first was only a scuffle.

At first gendarmes patrolling the streets tried to intervene but the free-for-all fighting became hotter and a rioting crowd followed the gendarmes as they fought their way to the police station with prisoners.

A milling crowd surrounded the prison.
Suddenly a shot came from the building. As the crowd broke, a heavy fusillade of rifle shots started.

People Begin to Fall

People in the crowd began to fall as the others raced madly for shelter.

The crowd re-formed, many brandishing weapons that appeared as if by magic, and made a mass assault on the station.

Gendarmes tried to flee through an adjoining building but all were shot down
as they ran out.

The Sudetens took possession of the police station.

They seized arms from its stores, including 40 rifles, ammunition, several cases of hand grenades and two machine guns with ammunition.

As soon as word reached Falk-enau and nearby Zwodau, truck-loads of gendarmes raced to the scene of battle.

They opened fire into the crowd,
which returned it.
Several were killed in the first volley.

The Sudetens said one of the

DEATHS OF TWO OHIO HUNTERS HELD ACCIDENTS

BELLEFONTAINE, Sept. 14—
(UP)—An accidental death verdict was given today by Coroner H. L.
Mikesell in connection with the fatal shooting of Benjamin H.
Nevers, 24, and his brother, Clarence 21, on a hunting expedition
near here.

The coroner's verdict exonerated
Theodore Hildebrand, 18, who shot the brothers with a .22 caliber rifle while hunting groundhogs.
Hildebrand told authorities he thought he saw two groundhogs in a thicket and fired. He shot the brothers who had been lying on the ground watching a groundhog hole.

G. O. P. OF OHIO GATHERING FOR BIG CONVENTION

5,000 Delegates And Advisers To Start State Meeting

GLENN FRANK SPEAKS

Labor Planks Asked After C. I. O., Green, Harrison Back Sawyer

COLUMBUS, Sept. 14—(UP)—Brimming with enthusiasm which they hope results of the November election will justify, the shock troops of the Republican party in Ohio descended on the state capital today for the biennial state convention and adoption of a party platform.

Republican state headquarters forecast that approximately 5,000 delegates and "advisory" delegates would jam the convention hall when the sessions open this afternoon. The convention will continue through tomorrow noon. The scheme of having "advisory" delegates was adopted for the primary purpose of drawing a big crowd.

Important developments today will be the "keynote" address of Dr. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin and chairman of the Republican national program committee, and the speeches of John W. Bricker and Robert A. Taft, the gubernatorial and senatorial candidates. The addresses will be broadcast tonight.

May "Play Down" F. D.

It was reported in political circles that efforts would be made to "play down" too violent criticism of President Roosevelt and the New Deal with critical emphasis on the administration's methods as against its objectives. The "reform" theme, however, will run through all discussions on matters of state government.

Reports also credited Bricker and his followers with an intention to insist on insertion in the platform of a "liberal" labor plank.

This was considered significant in view of the endorsement of Charles Sawyer, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, by the Committee for Industrial Organization, President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and George Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

The convention was to be called to order by State Chairman Ed D. Schorr who will turn the gavel over to James Garfield Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati. Mayor Stewart will introduce Dr. Frank. Later in the afternoon Mayor Harold H. Burton, of Cleveland, will be chosen permanent convention chairman if plans of party leaders are followed by the delegates.

The woman's "angle" will be provided by Mrs. Bricker who will make a short talk. Mrs. Taft also was invited to speak, but declined as a "hay fever" sufferer. She was out of the state. It was understood that Supreme Court Judge Arthur H. Day, Cleveland, Taft's opponent in the primaries, is on a motor tour in Canada and will not attend.

Losers Have Places

Edward C. Turner, Columbus, and State Sen. Verner E. Metcalf, Marietta, defeated for supreme court judgeship and attorney general nominations, respectively, will have prominent places, however. The resolutions committee will convene early in the evening to consider proposed planks for the platform and probably will work through the night.

PHILOS LODGE ARRANGES FOR ITS HOMECOMING

Annual homecoming of Philos Lodge, No. 64, Knights of Pythias, will be held Sept. 19 at 8 p. m.

There will be entertainment, speakers and a lunch. Prizes will be given for the oldest and youngest members. T. M. Glick is master of ceremonies.

EVERY MOTHER LOVES TO HEAR THE CHILDREN FAR OR NEAR OVER THE TELEPHONE

You can look at any newsstand today and get almost any kind of a magazine. Somebody must like all those things or the publishers couldn't stay in business.

When I saw my Cousin Wafford readin' one of them wild magazines with pictures of droppin' daggers all over the front page, I said, "What do you want to read that trash for about people that never lived?" I says, "Why don't you read some good biographies of famous people? You would not only improve your mind that way but you'd be readin' about people that actually existed."

When I saw him two weeks later, he came runnin' up to me and said, "I took your advice about readin' biographies and I like 'em better than fiction." Then he said, "Wasn't that sad about Jessie James?"

F. D. R., Eyes on Europe Starts Return to East

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 14—(UP)—President Roosevelt leaves today for the East where, either in the seclusion of the Summer White House at Hyde Park, N. Y., or at Washington, he will watch by telephone, telegraph and radio the swiftly-moving war drama in Europe.

He had planned to go to Hyde Park but advices received early today indicated that he was undecided, because of the tense situation, whether to proceed directly to Washington where he would be able to confer more readily with state department officials.

GOODMAN CHANGES POLICY

Benny Goodman will spotlight his soloists in future broadcasts on Columbia each Tuesday night.

Heretofore he has brought forward the duo of Jess Stacey and Teddy Wilson, the trio and the quartet. The soloists, however, have been played down considerably because of the lack of time on the program.

The group players will have to give up some of their time now, Benny says, to let such senders as Harry James and Budd Freedman take a passage or two. James is considered one of the top trumpet players in the country. Freedman, the Shakespeare-quoting saxophonist, is a virtuoso among swingsters when it comes to playing the instrument invented by Mr. Sax.

"PARKY" STARTS DICTIONARY

Taking right up where Webster left off, that Greek dialect artist, Parkyakarkus, has compiled his own list of words that are seldom used but often mispronounced.

According to "Parky," these are words that the average person uses daily without knowing their true meaning. This first list of 11 will be followed at intervals with additional words.

With the apologies to anybody who wants it, here is Parkyakarkus Private Dictionary—and it may help you to understand him.

1. Menace—A city in Italy where the sewers overflowed.
2. Mimic—A space of time. Like 60 seconds makes one mimic.
3. Cuspidor—A fellow who buys at a store. Like "The Cuspidor is always right."
4. Maternity—A lawyer. The head lawyer is called the District Maternity.
5. Heats, Pumps and Arrows—Baseball talk. It goes. No heats, no pumps, no arrows.
6. Elouction—What you get in the Electric Chair.
7. Monotony—The name of a movie, "Monotony on the Bounty."
8. Caddy—A small cat.
9. Phoney—A small horse what kids ride.
10. Ballot—What you shoot from a gun.
11. Apricot—Used in prize-fighting. Like he gave him under the chin an apricot!

JAMISON ON MUSIC HALL

Anne Jamison, titian soprano star of radio and concert stage, will be heard as guest star on

Saddened and increasingly worried by the grave turn in affairs, Mr. Roosevelt made his last visit to the bedside of his son, James, recuperating at St. Mary's hospital, Mayo clinic, from an operation for removal of a non-malignant ulcer, and made ready to give his undivided attention to affairs abroad. He planned to leave on his special train at noon.

In keeping with a policy laid down when he came here on a mission which concerned only his family, Mr. Roosevelt withheld comment on international and domestic affairs but close friends believed he would restate the United States' position in the event of a European war in the address he is scheduled to deliver Saturday at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., at the 150th anniversary celebration of the first Constitutional convention of America. They believed the occasion, because of its historical significance, would be a good time for him to set forth the administration's attitude.

Before leaving Rochester, Mr. Roosevelt was expected to confer by telephone with Secretary of State Cordell C. Hull in Washington on last-minute developments. He has been in daily communication with the state department and has given orders to be advised of every move without delay.

Last night, in the privacy of the tiny drawing room of his special train, he heard via radio detailed reports of the European situation, demands of the Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia and the stiffening attitude of the Prague government.

His special train will move eastward via Chicago and will reach Hyde Park or Washington sometime tomorrow night.

Mr. Roosevelt will entrain Sunday or Monday for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he will deliver an address at the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Lookout Mountain.

From Chattanooga he will return to Washington for 10 days and then go to Hyde Park for a rest.

There was little or no comment on the train regarding the victory of Sen. Millard F. Tydings of Maryland, Anti-New Dealer, over Rep. David J. Lewis, who had strong White House backing. The general feeling aboard the train was that the developments in Europe completely blanketed the Maryland situation.

Miss Jamison, who scored a tremendous success in her first New York concert last Winter, has been signed to make her debut as the star of "Gettysburg," first American opera, at the Hollywood Bowl late this month. She has also been signed by the San Francisco Opera Co. for the coming season.

GEORGIA VOTES TO DETERMINE GEORGE'S FATE

Senator Opposed By New Deal Chief Favored To Win Again

BY UNITED PRESS
Sen. Walter F. George, one of the four conservatives President Roosevelt is striving to retire from congress, faced the crucial test in the Georgia primary today and betting odds favored his re-nomination.

Two fellow conservatives on President Roosevelt's elimination list—Sen. Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina and Sen. Millard Tydings of Maryland—already have been re-nominated despite his opposition. The fourth—Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York City—faces his constituents in a primary Sept. 20.

Today's Georgia primary culminated the busiest primary week of this primary year. Yesterday nine states held primaries in which no national issues were involved. The results were:

COLORADO: — Sen. Alva B. Adams, an opponent of some New Deal measures but who was not opposed by Mr. Roosevelt or any member of his administration, won Democratic re-nomination. He had no opponent. Archibald Lee was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

NEW HAMPSHIRE: — Rep. Charles W. Tobey defeated Eliot W. Carter for Republican senatorial nomination. Republican Governor Francis P. Murphy won re-nomination over Attorney General Thomas P. Cheney with a margin of only 2,000 votes. John L. Sullivan, who almost won the governorship in 1934, was the Democratic gubernatorial nominee without opposition.

VERMONT: — Gov. George D. Aiken won Republican nomination over Ellsha N. Goodsell; Sen. Ernest W. Gibson won Republican renomination over Martin S. Vilas.

SOUTH CAROLINA: — Mayor Burnet R. Maybank won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a run-off primary over Wyndham Manning.

MICHIGAN: — Gov. Frank Murphy won Democratic renomination without opposition. Former Gov. Frank Fitzgerald won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over Harry S. Toy, attorney general and state supreme court justice, and Roscoe Conkling Fitch, who ran as an advocate of both the Townsend and the $30-every-Thursday pension schemes. All 17 incumbent Congressmen were re-nominated.

LOUISIANA: — Rep. J. I. Griffith, backed by machine of the late Huey P. Long, won re-nomination in the 6th district over James H. Morrison who was shot and slightly wounded from ambush Saturday.

UTAH: — Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, Democrat, unopposed for renomination. Dr. Franklin S. Harris, president of Brigham Young University, won the Republican senatorial nomination.

ARIZONA: — Republican candidates, all unopposed: Burt M. Clineghem, for senator; Jerrie W. Lee, for governor; M. E. Cassidy for house.

WASHINGTON: — Rep. Charles H. Leavy, Democrat, renominated unopposed. Sen. Homer T. Bone won re-nomination easily on the Democratic ticket. Leavy's colleagues in the house, Warren G. Magnuson, Monrad C. Wallgren, Martin F. Smith, Knute Hill and Charles M. Coffee, all Democrats, also were re-nominated.

FAME'S BLIGHT

POOR Douglas Corrigan! This exclamation is uttered advisedly. From recent news accounts, the bonny Irish lad who flew the Atlantic with such a combination of skill, courage and humor, and then flew just as blithely and quietly into the heart of America, is languishing.

He obviously wearies of an endless round of parades, banquets, speeches and flowers. At the National Air Races, though naturally the cynosure of the show, he was visibly drooping. He could hardly produce a grin for the feminine beauties ready to welcome him with flowers and kisses. He shrank from the crowds. He wanted quietness and sleep.

An overdose of fame brings spiritual indigestion. Too much public attention may sour a good man's life. There is Lindbergh, for instance.

The best thing that could happen to Corrigan right now is to get a good job in some airplane factory and stay there, like a groundhog in winter, defying all Chambers of Commerce, journalists, showmen and bathing beauties, to haul him out.

UNIFORMS

AFTER Oct. 28, it is expected, one-sixth of the population of Italy will be in uniform. That will mean about one person per family. The total number of uniforms will be 7,500,000. It must be a great time for the tailors and clothing manufacturers. And there will doubtless be a spiritual uplift when all those people get into their new clothes.

The army accounts for about three-quarters of a million, the air and navy forces more than 100,000, the police 40,000, and the various political organizations nearly 6,000,000. These include 2,500,000 full-fledged male fascists, 1,500,000 women and 1,700,000 boys and girls in the various Fascist youth organizations. All civil employees are to be uniformed.

It amounts to a masterpiece of regimentation. There is no more effective way to make people look alike, think alike and act alike than to put them into the same fixed clothing patterns, especially when the clothes are made a badge of patriotism and a mystic symbol of the national life.

Anyway, there are no "heads rolling in the dust" over here.

Stresemann was a greater man than Hitler. He got what he wanted for Germany by peaceful means, without armament or bluster, by making friends of neighboring countries.

DETROIT ARCHBISHOP TO ADVANCE

WASHINGTON—High Catholic churchmen are predicting privately that Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit will succeed to the red hat of the late Cardinal Hayes.

Selection of the new Prince of the Church rests solely with the Pope and it is admitted no one knows whom he will elevate. But it is claimed that all indications point to Archbishop Mooney as the logical ruler of the temporal and spiritual affairs of the wealthiest archdiocese in the world.

If the Holy See does bestow the red hat on him it will go to one of the youngest and most liberal heads of the Church in the United States.

Born in Maryland 56 years ago, Archbishop Mooney received his Ph. D. degree at the North American College in Rome and was ordained a priest in 1909. He taught as a professor for a number of years in Catholic colleges in this country and abroad and was made an Archbishop in 1926.

That same year he was sent as Apostolic Delegate to India and on a similar mission to Japan five years later. In 1933 he became Archbishop of Rochester, N. Y., and remained there until transferred to the Detroit diocese in 1937.

There he quietly put a damper on the radio fulminations of Father Coughlin and in other ways curbed his political activities.

Both in Rochester and Detroit, Archbishop Mooney has displayed deep interest in union labor and has many friends among the leaders of both the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. During the government reorganization bill fight last winter he publicly endorsed the bitterly contested legislation.

His advanced social and economic views are further shown by his chairmanship of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, which is noted for its liberalism.

UNUSUAL VISITOR

During Secretary Henry Wallace's recent Canadian trip, local newsmen had a hard time locating him because of his modesty.

A group of Canadian reporters boarded Wallace's train at St. Johns, Quebec. But search as they would they were unable to find him. They asked the conductor, but he had never heard of Wallace.

Then they said, "Where is the special car for the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture?" The conductor replied there was no special car on his train.

In their search the newsmen repeatedly passed Wallace's Pullman berth but it never occurred to them to look for him in such humble quarters.

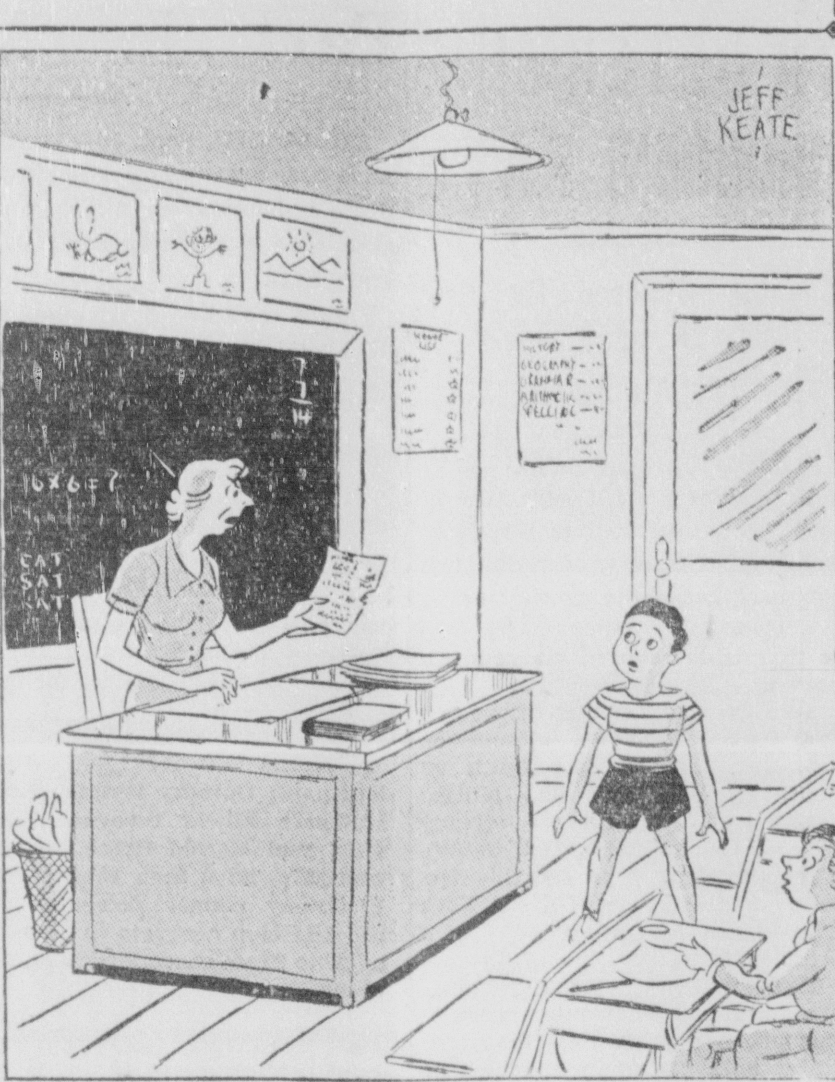

Finally a U. S. newsman, Vermont Royster of the Wall Street Journal, had pity on his Canadian colleagues and told them where Wallace was.

This was one surprise. But they had another when Wallace gave them a personal interview. The Canadian reporters had expected a Cabinet officer would talk only through an intermediary.

How Nervous Activity Functions in the Body

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I HAVE often said that the most marvelous part of the human body is the cerebellum. The cerebellum makes us do ten thousand and one little things with precision and assurance and without giving them a thought, from picking up a coffee cup by the handle to running for a street car.

But like all other parts of the higher central nervous system, it depends on the humble processes of digestion, respiration and metabolism, as well as a great many other things that are not chemical.

Man's real function in the world must be to use his brain, but heaven knows that function goes about as wrong as any of the others we mentioned in the earlier articles this week. Men can live and animals can live without very much of their upper brain. The deoceanic animal walks, sits, crouches and rights itself in fairly normal manner. In the great American crowbar case, where a crowbar was accidentally driven through a man's left frontal cerebral hemisphere, which is supposed to be the center of thought, the victim slept, walked and conversed with his family all right for many years afterward.

So these high centers are not divorced from the rest of the body. In a way it can function without them. At least it is able to take care of its creature needs without them. And they cannot function without the body's chemical help or without the impressions that come in from the outside world.

The functioning even of the logical centers of Kant and Newton and Hume was conditioned on what their eyes brought to them, and their ears and the sensations from their skin. Aloof and magnificent as their conceptions were, they were still born in the phenomena of the earth in which their creators lived.

In studying such a thing as Milton's blindness, it has been pointed out that he was, in youth, probably an albino, because like an albino who had no pigment in his retina, he saw everything as a blaze of light. His poetry is filled with images of light, of a glorious heaven ablaze, probably because he saw this world in that way. Thus each of us is bound in our thoughts and our opinions by the experiences of our lives.

The case of Laura Bridgman shows how difficult it is to awaken the brain if an important sensory receptor is missing. At the age of four, after an attack of sickness, she was deprived of the senses of sight and hearing; taste and smell were very much blunted. There remained only touch as a way of arousing her thought processes. She had a devoted teacher, but years of work were required before even a glimmer of a response occurred. Everything we understand through the senses of sight and sound had to be reinvented for her in terms of touch. That success was finally achieved is due to the genius of her teacher. You may read all about it in Dickens' "American Notes".

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, cash or check, to the publisher, Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

When West led the heart K, East played the 7 and when the Q was cashed, East dropped the 4. This signal by East could only mean that he held at least one trump and was in a position to ruff the next round.

Because West continued with the heart A, instead of leading a small one, as East had expected, the latter refused to trump the trick. The play of the spade 8 by East would have forced one of South's high honors and set up a trump trick for West.

As East failed to trump the heart trick, South was able to do so with his spade 2. After drawing trumps, he correctly finessed the diamond 10 to West. He therefore lost only two hearts and the club A.

AFRAID TO MARRY

HELEN WELSHIMER

READ THIS FIRST:
Judy Rogers, New York heiress, is looking for a job because her father has been wiped out in a financial crash. When her father goes west with her step-mother, her own mother being abroad and remarried, Judy moves to a small hotel. Heart-broken because Craig Denby, the man she loved, married another girl, she finds solace in the company of Ronald Birrell, brilliant young attorney from Tennessee, who recently joined the firm of her father's lawyers. Afraid of marriage, Judy realizes that is why she lost Craig. When she learns from her best friend, Marjorie, that Craig and Mary, his bride of a few weeks, have separated, Judy calls on Mary and phones Craig in an effort to bring them back together. A second call to Mary is necessary to bring about a reconciliation. Judy cannot find work and one evening returns to the hotel to find herself locked out because her rent is overdue. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 16

IN THE following week Judy pawned a ruby ring that had been her grandmother's, paid her rent, and moved to a rooming house.

She could find no work. Had anyone told her, three months before, that jobs were so scarce she would have smiled. She might have taken a dare and tried to find one, and maybe succeeded, since life has a habit of handing favors to those with market baskets more or less crowded.

But now—
She counted her money. Enough for meals and another week's rent. It had been a good ruby. Some day she would reclaim it. At the moment some orange juice, coffee and toast would be better than a jewel as a fortification against the day's search. She slipped into the scarlet woolen frock, the brown jacket, and went to the white-tiled cafeteria on the corner. The air was cold this morning. Her fur coats, two of them, were in storage. Some repair work had been done on them and she did not have the money to reclaim them. The brown jacket, the warmest coat she had, was too thin for such a day.

Someone had left a morning paper on the table that she chose, and she scanned it idly. Her eyes focused on a small story, not more than six inches long. It concerned her father. It seemed he had well-grounded hopes that one of his investments would be successful. There were financial terms, in the article, that meant nothing to her.

One thing, though, Judy knew. She would not give up her desire to be independent, worthy of the clothes she wore and the bread she ate, no matter what boon came her way. Not until she had vanquished the obstacles that beset her path would she relax.

She smiled, recalling the mingled worry and admiration in Ronald Birrell's eyes. She would give him no opportunity to call her a quitter.

"It's funny," she mused to a strip of buttered toast. "He likes Abbey Boland, and she's a glittering parasite. Now, as for me, I'm sort of a problem case, and he thinks he has a responsibility, but he wants me to fight it through. Maybe he doesn't—maybe he wants to laugh at me. But I'd better turn to the want ads."

Up and down and straight across her eyes went. Secretaries, stitchers, a teacher in a private school—nothing she could do. A box caught her eye. For a moment she studied it carefully. Then the little impulse of mirth that had flashed in her eyes so merrily until a few weeks before came back.

She left the table, went to a dial telephone in the corner of the restaurant, inserted a nickel in the slot, and called a number.

"Danceland?" she asked when a sleepy voice said "hello."

"It is, lady,"
"You have an advertisement in the morning paper, saying you need hostesses to serve as dance companions for—your guests?"

"Yeah?"

"I'd like to apply."

"Come around at three this afternoon. I'm the janitor. Nobody else is in. The folks leave about three or four in the morning and don't get back till afternoon."

When Judy made her application in person, promptly at three, she found a dozen other girls waiting, and hired her.

"Get here around nine," he instructed. "We close at two. What "You're a little ritzy anyway."

about evening gowns—got any?"

"Yes, I have."
A small smile caught the corners of her mouth, and her eyebrows lifted upward. She had a dozen evening frocks hanging on velvet-padded hangers in her wardrobe. She had looked on them as a total loss until this morning. Now they would serve a good purpose.

"Any black ones?" the man pursued the subject.

"Two or three."

"Good! You're the type who can wear something quiet and give it dash. How about black tonight?"

"Black will be excellent."

She mentally scanned the wardrobe hangers. One dress was a romantic black satin with velvet bows and a padded bustle. She had worn it last to the theater with Craig. Another was a high-waisted model of black crepe, worn under a black sequin sleeveless jacket. She and Craig had been house guests at the same house party the night she first appeared in it. . . . Then there was a glamorous shirred black tulle, with spreading skirts and criss-cross straps which held it in place, above a low neck.

The man scrutinized her again. "No—can the black. You're a little ritzy anyway. Too Park Avenue, but some folks like it. Black might scare 'em, though. What else have you got?"

There was nothing in the wide autumn world which could have been as remote from Judy's mind, three months earlier, than sitting in the modernistic office of the proprietor of Danceland, describing her wardrobe.

She tried to keep the amusement from her voice as she mentioned frocks. There was a strapless gold chiffon, a cream satin as straight as an old Greek temple pillar, half a mile of pale green tulle that would around her, chrysalis fashion, and a dress with six bright gypsy colors that made a bouffant skirt which was attached to a tight orange bodice. She merely mentioned the colors, though.

"Was anything," the man finally interrupted. He mentioned a salary, told her the customary percentage of her partners' tickets on which she could count, and dismissed her.

When she arrived at her room, there was a note telling her to get in touch with Ronald Birrell. She called him from the community pay telephone in the lower hall.

He came to the point at once. "Judy, have you found your dress sketches?"

"Not a trace of them, Ronald. I've searched and searched."

"There's a dress contest for the best designs being sponsored by a national style group, and this man who took your work and passed it off for his own, is entering. I called your former boss this morning, and he let it out. Seems to think that's proof that the man is honest and talented. He's using your sketches among others."

An idea was forming in Judy's mind. "Ronald, may I have the address of the contest? I have other sketches. I think I'll try. Wouldn't it be nice if I could beat the crook?"

She knew that Ronald had something else to say to her when she had copied the address. It came at last.

"I have a job I think you'll like. Not a permanent one. But it will be easy enough, and pleasant, until you get a foothold in the fashion world."

"Two jobs in one day. I'm in luck. What do I do? Fill the ink bottles and seat the clients at your office?"

"Much more thrilling. But what's the other job?"

"You tell me first." She knew Ronald was going to object to Danceland. Maybe she wouldn't have to accept it. Now that other work was offered she realized how distasteful it had been. She had been making a golden balloon out of her hope, blowing it up as big as she could, and waving it for courage.

"It's with Abbey Boland. The Bolands are clients of the firm, you know, and I've been pretty much tied up with some law matters concerning them. Abbey's turned to me with her troubles, too."

"So Abbey has troubles?" She made a grimace at her piquant face which was reflected in a mirror in the dusky hall. "What are they?"

"Abbey is engaged to marry Count Philippe Alexis Von Gundersfeld. He arrives in a day or two and she's swamped with plans and correspondence. She needs someone to help her see it through—someone who knows the way. She's not afraid to pay. You'll be at the Long Island house most of the time."

Making her own way in the world was fine and challenging, Judy reflected swiftly. Serving Abbey Boland, who was preparing to marry a count, was something else again.

"Thank you, Ronald. You're a dear to think about me, but Abbey can get just as good a bargain in royal gentlemen without my help. I might coax her into marrying a good, sound American and she wouldn't like that."

"Do as you please, of course. Maybe your other offer is better."

World At A Glance

—By— Charles P. Stewart

Hints of an anti-New Dealerish Democratic plot to oust Senator Alben W. Barkley as majority leader in the upper congressional chamber when the national legislature meets next are not to be taken as indicative of any particular hostility on his fellow solon's part to the Kentucky statesman personally. No, if "Dear Alben" is demoted from his leadership to the rating of nothing but an ordinary senator it will be done as a jab at President Roosevelt, not at Alben. For obvious reasons anti-New Deal Democratic sentiment on Capitol Hill is bound to be bitterer than ever before in the 76th Congress. If it can score a mean point against F. D. R. it isn't going to hesitate to do so out of consideration for Barkley's feelings.

It must be remembered that when Democratic Senatorial Leader Joseph T. Robinson died, Senators Barkley and Pat Harrison were rivals to succeed him. President Roosevelt, deeming Barkley the better New Dealer of the pair, expressed himself in favor of the Kentuckian.

THE RACE WAS CLOSE
And Barkley won, but by only one majority.
Plenty of ill-feeling resulted, the anti-New Deal Democrats contending that the fight was one the President had no business to interfere in. Primary campaigning and the President's announcement of liberal Republicans' acceptability to him naturally have broadened the intra-Democratic split.

Now in the November election the prospects are that the Republicans will gain two or three senate seats.

This will not give the Republicans a majority, or within a mile of it.

However, where a Republican wins he generally will win at the expense of a pro-New Deal Democrat.

Which is equivalent to saying that, while labeled Democrats will not be much fewer than heretofore, anti-New Deal Democrats will about hold their own, whereas pro-New Deal Democrats will be weakened a trifle.

And only a trifle!
But, as to the intra-Democratic senatorial majority, this trifling amounts to only one vote—rather less than a trifle.

Senator Barkley will be re-elected in Kentucky certainly. Nobody questions that.

political sensation of the first quality. The average home voter may not realize it, but Washington does.

Who might succeed him?

HARRISON DOESN'T WANT IT
Pat Harrison of Mississippi fought him once, but Pat, they say, doesn't care for the job; it's too strenuous.

As an alternative Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina is mentioned. That's another sensation. Earlier in the game "Jimmie" Byrnes was recognized as Rooseveltianism's premier senatorial spokesman. If he's turned anti-New Deal (or always has been that way but only just now has noticed it) it's a development of first class importance.

Washington's theory is that two new parties (or maybe three new parties) are in process of creation. I have my doubts. I've seen these realignments struggling with one another for so long, and getting, any of them, nowhere, that I'm a skeptic. Still, it may happen sometime.

In any event there won't be a realignment short of 1940.

The 1939 session of Congress will be one of the worst gummied-up in American history.

Of course if a European war starts all reckonings go floey.

Potting hyacinths for indoor use

WHEN potting hyacinths for indoor blooms this Winter, select only heavy, well-ripened bulbs. Examine them carefully to make sure they are free from blemishes. Use a potting mixture consisting of fibrous loam, well decayed cow manure and sand.

After potting the bulbs place the pits in a cold frame or in the open, set in ashes as shown in the Garden-Graph. Cover the bulbs either with fiber or soil to protect them from frost and to keep them in the dark. To protect the new growth as it develops, place a smaller flower pot over each pot of bulbs, as illustrated.

Start to gather leaves as an organic matter. They may be dug directly into the uncultivated spots of the garden.
